Honorable Joseph L. Alioto, Mayor
City and County of San Francisco
200 City Hall
San Francisco, California

Dear Mayor Alioto:

We are submitting for your approval the final report of the 1968 Regular Session of the California State Legislature, the Veto Session and Special Session which started on September 9th and concluded Friday, September 20th. This report contains disposition of all bills upon which the City adopted an official legislative policy. In all, the City and County of San Francisco chose to express itself on 386 pieces of legislation with instructions to the Legislative Representative to either support, oppose, or watch those bills as they progressed in both houses.

So far this year the Legislature has been in session almost eight months and once again failed to agree on financing the BART deficit of $144,000,000. There is no need here to stress how important it is that legislation providing funds for BART be passed. Without such legislation it will not be possible to complete BART as originally planned. It is sufficient to say that the legislators from the BART counties and the Governor could not agree on a method of financing which resulted in the second deadlock in as many years. It is, however, possible that the Governor will call a special session after the election if it appears an agreement can be reached.

The City of San Francisco did effect other legislative gains. Chief among these was the passage and signature by Governor Reagan of Assembly Bill 190, authored by Assemblymen John L. Burton, John F. Foran, Willie L. Brown, Charles W. Meyers and Senators George R. Moscone and Milton Marks. This bill returns in trust to the City and County of San Francisco the Port of San Francisco after the people vote to underwrite the outstanding debt of the Port. Under the terms of this bill the City agrees to spend $50,000,000 in port improvements during the next 10 years and another $50,000,000 during the following 15 years. The bill further contains the Long Beach formula in re windfall profits on state tidelands. Such profits would go 85 percent to the state and 15 percent to the Port of San Francisco but only after all port needs including capital expenditure, debt service and all other port needs are satisfied.

The present members of the Port Authority are to continue in office until the expiration of their terms and new members are to be appointed by the Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco with confirmation by the Board of Supervisors. The State Director of Finance and the Secretary of Agriculture or their deputies are to serve as ex officio members of the commission when the port facilities are transferred to the City.

The Legislature was unable to agree on a tax relief package during the Regular Session but did agree during the Special Session to submit what is now known as Proposition 1-A to the voters in November. This measure would give every homeowner a reduction of $750 of assessed valuation providing Proposition 1-A obtains more votes than Proposition 7, the Watson Amendment. Proposition 1-A, based upon the present tax rate in San Francisco, would give each homeowner a saving of approximately $76 a year.

The passage of Assembly Bill 1454, Lanterman, supported by the Health Department, will give the City additional mental health financing.

San Francisco will ultimately obtain $1,700,000 from the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District under the terms of Senate Bill 1013, Collier. This legislation provides that moneys provided by the member counties to create the District almost 40 years ago be returned to those counties with 4 percent interest.

Four of San Francisco's private medical facilities will benefit to the extent of $9,093,825 under Senate Bill 510, Teale, now Chapter 1415. The facilities are Pacific Medical Center, $2,775,106; St. Mary's Hospital, $4,447,287; Children's Hospital, $944,258; St. Francis Memorial Hospital, $927,174. These funds will be made available on a matching basis as part of the Hill-Harris Health Facilities Construction Program. Under the terms of the program, the state and federal governments pick up 1/3 each of the eligible costs of construction. The local entities are responsible for providing the remainder of such costs.

No substantial gains can be reported in the matter of school financing or aid to the educationally disadvantaged. This matter is still in the hands of the Senate Study Committee and it is hoped that the 1969 legislative session will work out a formula that will distribute money on the basis of need rather than upon the present formula based on assessed valuation behind each child. The San Francisco Unified School District is not represented at the State Legislature so that it is most difficult for the City's representatives with a short staff and a heavy work load to give more than cursory attention to the great number of educational bills introduced at each session of the Legislature.

S.C.A. 10, Moscone, will be on the ballot in November as Proposition 2. It will substitute a formula for assessing values of taxable properties owned by cities and counties outside of their own boundaries for the present system of those assessed values being determined by the assessor of the county in which the property is located. This measure has the unqualified support of the San Francisco Public Utilities Department.

As in past years the legislative delegation from San Francisco with Senator George R. Moscone as Chairman and including Senator Milton Marks, Assemblymen John L. Burton, Willie L. Brown, John F. Foran, and Charles W. Meyers offered the City and its representatives all possible cooperation.

Following is the history of all bills upon which San Francisco adopted a policy:
